Muscadine Lines signing this Saturday, Aug. 19

Editor Kathy Rhodes and several contributing authors will sign Muscadine Lines: A Southern Anthology, a collection of 28 stories and 28 poems by 28 writers. The book features the works of veterans of the Franklin-based online magazine Muscadine Lines: A Southern Journal, asouthernjournal.com, also edited by Rhodes, now in its second year. Muscadine Lines contains the works of previously published authors, as well as fresh new voices.

Ten contributors to the anthology are from Franklin/Brentwood: Louise Collin, Susie Dunham, Nancy Fletcher-Blume, Joyce Lee, S. R. (Sally) Lee, C. K. Speroff, Kristin O'Donnell Tubb, Ginger Manley, Ben Norwood, and Marion Bolick Perutelli. There are 18 writers in all from Middle Tennessee.

"The stories herein represent the best of the South!" says Beth Boswell Jacks, author of three books, including Grit, Guts, and Baseball.

The signing will take place at 7:00 pm at Barnes & Noble Cool Springs (1701 Mallory Lane, Brentwood, TN 37027)
